The Village Inn's Story

On this site stood the original St. Anne's Church – first built in 1715 in present day Mackinaw City, then disassembled in 1780, hauled across the ice covered straits by a team of horses and reconstructed on the island. In 1878, St. Anne's was rebuilt at its current location and the old church was torn down and much of the site remained vacant for the next century.

In the 1950's, island resident Mort Pero and his son built "Pero's Pow Wow" just steps away on Main Street. By the end of the decade Arlene and Bob Chambers purchased the property and renamed the Village Inn and sold it to Dennis Brodeur and Jack Chambers in 1963. Dennis left the partnership to open his own Mustang Lounge and Jack converted the premises to a gift shop in 1977.

Dennis Cawthorne began coming to the island as an Albion College student working for Carriage Tours and returned to run the Chamber of Commerce during his Harvard Law School years. He married Cynthia at St. Anne's Church in 1976 and two years later they purchased the Village Inn's vacant back yard and built the brand new Village Inn that opened on June 6, 1981.

Dennis has been an attorney, a former Michigan Legislator, a U.S. delegate to international conferences in Brussels, Moscow and Beijing and long time member and Chairman of the Mackinac Island State Park Commission by appointment of the Governor. Because of Cynthia and Dennis's commitment to the island and to the state of Michigan, the Village Inn has become a popular year round gathering place. For almost thirty years Mary and Ron Dufina managed the property for the Cawthornes. Grand Hotel was honored to take over the management of the newly named Cawthorne's Village Inn on December 1, 2011.
